

Workshop Program
The Non-Aligned Movement in the Mediterranean
Led by Rinna Kullaa rk331@columbia.edu

February 13, 2009 Columbia University

9:30-9:40am: Introduction Victoria de Grazia, Columbia University

Opening remarks: Rinna E. Kullaa, Columbia University

9:45-11:15am: The Superpowers and Non-Alignment in the Mediterranean

No Tito – No Influence: Soviet Policy in the Post-Colonial Mediterranean

Rinna Kullaa, Columbia University

Yugoslavia's Two 'Special Relationships': The Non-Aligned Movement and the United States as Alternatives

John Lampe, University of Maryland

Discussant: David Engerman, Brandeis University and the Davis Center, Harvard University

11:30am-1:15pm: The Mediterranean Roots and Evolution of the Non-Aligned Movement

The Midnight Ride of Kwame Nkrumah and Other Fables of Bandung (Ban-doong)

Robert Vitalis, University of Pennsylvania

The Soviet Invasion of Afghanistan: An Opportunity for United Action

Tvrtko Jakovina, University of Zagreb

Discussant: Marilyn Young, New York University.

2:00pm-3:45pm: The Non-Aligned Movement: The 'Third World' and Arab Development

The Allure of Globalism: Non-Alignment and Third Worldism in Algerian Foreign Policy, 1962-1964

Jeffrey Byrne, London School of Economics

Non-Alignment as Modernity: U.S. - Egyptian Relations in the Context of Arab Development

Debates Nathan Citino, Colorado State University

Cultures of Neutrality – Nasserism and its Discontents

Joel Gordon, University of Arkansas

Discussion Leader: Ousmane Kane, Columbia University.

4:00pm-5:15pm: A Conversation on the Ends and Missed Beginnings for Non-Alignment: Yugoslavia and Greece

Yugoslavia in the Non-Aligned Movement in the 1980s: End or New Beginning

Pavle Jevremović, Permanent Representative of the Republic of Serbia to the UN

Greece and the Non-Aligned Movement

Konstantina Maragkou, Yale University

Discussion Leader: Martin Sletzinger, Woodrow Wilson Centre

Book Presentation and Reception

5:30pm-7:00pm: Room 1501

Sowing Crisis: The Cold War and American Hegemony in the Middle East

Rashid Khalidi, Edward Said Professor of Modern Arab Studies and Literature,
Columbia University